

Triple C Carving Group Newsletter

Jan 8th, 2025

27 Carvers attended today's meeting.

Important Note: Hall opens at 8:30 AM. The meeting will start at 9:00 AM. We have the Hall till 12:00 pm

- Treasurer's Report: The Treasurer's Report will be next week.
- Cookies: Thank you Susan and Mary and Dennis for goodies this week. Next week is Harvey.
- Guests: Welcome to our 2 new members, Guy (Scotty) Scott, and Margot Utting.
- Website: The website is up-to-date. Dennis is working to match up old carving photos with past presidents. He wants to have a showcase on the website of carvings which were made by past presidents.
- Business:
- Birthdays – Happy Birthday to Jim B.!
- Member Update – Mary has updated the memorial plaque to include Camilla Robichaud who died last year. Keith G. informed us that Rene Warnez passed away and that there is no funeral planned. A condolence card was circulated today for Rene's wife and family. Thank you Keith for offering to send the card to the family.
- Noah's Ark – Last day today to submit ideas for possible 'permanent home'. The executive will bring a proposal to the club in the next few weeks.
- Bark Carving Class – Reminder, the class is Feb 5th. Garry explained that bark wood is difficult to procure. Only 15 pieces are available (versus the 20 that he ordered). As such, today is the last day to sign-up.
- Strangway – Wed, Jan 22nd the club has a field trip. Lunch will be at Village Garden (~noon-1:30pm). The tour of the Strangway woodshop is at 1:30PM. This is open to everyone, no sign-up required.
- T-shirts – An order form for Triple C T-shirts will be circulated later in February.
- Golf Tee Challenge – Wooden golf tees were donated by Arnold and these are today's challenge...make a carving and include the tee, or carve the tee. Bring your finished item in next week for display and a chance to win a Timmies gift card!
- Tech talk:
- Doug shared how he hollowed-out a carved bird in order to use the bird to contain ashes (it's an extra special urn).
- Terry made a shed to look like an outhouse. He asked for ideas about mounting the cobalt blue windows and explained that he needs an arrow to dress-up the carved heart. Terry donated to the club the barn board scrap from this shed project.
